Grievance Redressal Mechanism

Our college has several avenues of communication for its students and employees to express their concerns, problems, or questions. Grievance Redressal Procedure/Mechanism is the most significant and predominant amongst them.

A grievance is a written claim raised by a student or an employee of the college alleging improper, arbitrary, unfair or discriminatory treatment by any of the students, employees or college administration involving the application of a specific provision of a College rule/regulation or a Governing Body policy or procedure. The grievance mechanism is available to any student or employee who believes that the environment in the college campus or treatment by any of the fellow students/employees or a decision/action taken by the College has adversely affected their status, rights, or privileges as a student or an employee. A grievance may be caused by any situation arising from an action in the college campus by any of its stakeholders causing academic, financial, emotional or physical distress to its students and employees.

Purpose of Grievance Redressal Mechanism

The purpose of this Grievance Redressal Mechanism is to define the procedure for managing stakeholder concerns and complaints (referred to as “grievances”) in a planned, organized, timely, and respectful manner. This mechanism or procedure helps our esteemed institution fulfil the requirements of Human Rights Policy and alignment with institutional best practices in stakeholder engagement. In pursuit of the institution’s policy of openness, accountability, and responsiveness to its students, employees and to the society, the College has established this grievance redressal mechanism to effectively and proactively manage their feedback, grievances or concerns. This mechanism aims at a prompt and impartial process for resolving grievances of the students and employees (to all concerns). It can enhance institutional outcomes by giving students and employees satisfaction that their voices are being heard and that their issue is being subject to formal consideration within the institutional framework itself.

The students approach the committee to voice their grievances regarding academic issues, ragging issues, health services, library and other services. The Grievance Redressal Committee redresses the grievances by sorting out the problems promptly and judiciously.

Objectives of the Grievance Redressal Committee

Steps toward Resolution

Based upon the information presented in the grievance, informal discussion between persons directly involved in a grievance is essential in the early stages of dispute and reconciliation, and mutual resolution shall be encouraged at all stages of the procedure. Regular Parent-Teacher Meet not only presents a platform to raise grievances but it also helps in Grievance Redressal Mechanism by resolving a good number of grievance issues before delving into further complications.

Steps toward resolution shall begin with discussions within the department amongst the parties involved in the grievance directly.

If the student is not satisfied with the results of the initial discussion or if the nature of grievance can never be resolved at the initial level, then the issue is referred to the College authority (Principal) to examine the grievance. The Principal along with the convenor and members of the Grievance Redressal Committee or members / convenors of other concerned committees, student and others involved in the grievance will conduct and preside the meeting.

If a satisfactory solution cannot be reached within a reasonable period, the Principal should refer the issue to the Governing Body or the affiliated University as the case may be for further discussion and appropriate action.
